

- review communication tower & bird mortality
- have communications industry fund research to identify tower placement, design & lighting conditions that harm birds
- conduct environmental reviews of existing towers to determine impact on migratory birds
- require rigorous environmental reviews of all new towers
- implement immediate protection based on existing knowledge such as the USF&WS tower siting & placement guidelines